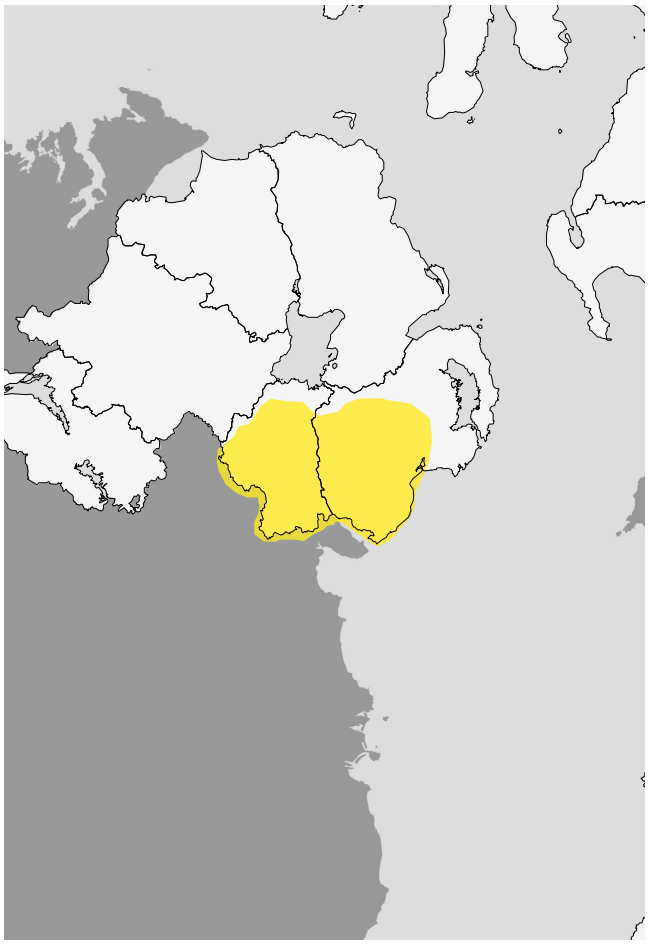
Yellow warning
Rain

Between
00:00 Wed 16 Oct 2024 and
06:00 Wed 16 Oct 2024



Spells of heavy rain may bring some disruption to parts of southeast Northern Ireland

What to expect

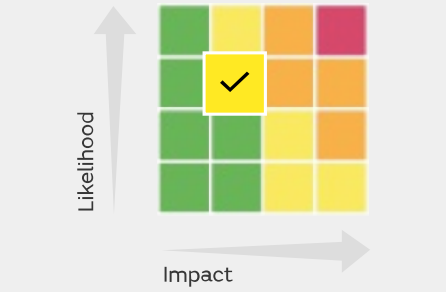
- Spray and flooding on roads probably making journey times longer
- Bus and train services probably affected with journey times taking longer
- A small chance of flooding of a few homes and businesses is likely
- A small chance of some interruption to power supplies and other services

Further details

Rain is expected to push north across much of Northern Ireland during Tuesday evening and overnight, clearing from the south on Wednesday morning. The heaviest rain is likely to be across southeastern areas, where 20-30 mm is likely widely. Some high ground of South Armagh and South Down, and particularly the Mournes, could see 50-80 mm.

What should I do?

Check if your property could be at risk of flooding. If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.



Medium likelihood of low impacts

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.
